Learn all the tricks you need to make your manga characters come alive!

This book is an ideal introductory course for anyone who wants to learn how to draw in the popular manga style.

Popular artist and illustrator Gecko Keck guides the reader through clear, step-by-step instructions on how to draw manga, from representing hands and faces, depicting movement and proportion as well as how to portray different clothing and poses for male and female figures.

Gecko Keck (real name: Gerhard Wörner; born November 1967 in Stuttgart, Germany) is a German artist, designer and author. Among other things, he was involved in the toy development of the FERRERO Kinder Surprise eggs. After graduating from high school in 1987, Keck worked as a freelance illustrator and caricaturist for various newspapers. From 1989 he had a permanent position at Motor Presse Verlag Stuttgart as a graphic designer, illustrator and comic artist. During this time he developed his own magazine concepts and took part in various exhibitions in the Stuttgart area. In 1993 he again took step into self-employment and he worked as a freelance artist and designer. In 1996, Keck began designing surprise egg toys for the Italian confectionery manufacturer FERRERO, making a total of over 5,000 drawings and 300 models. By 2004, he created approximately 40% percent of the content, of which there are an estimated billion copies worldwide. He also developed products for well-known licensed themes such as "SpongeBob", "Hello Kitty", "Asterix", "Lord of the Rings", "Peanuts", "The Smurfs" etc.

Create unique comic art characters that burst off the page with charisma, personality and power, with professional comic book artist Sam Hart.

Aimed at young teens and upwards, this must-have guide is the perfect introduction to creating dynamic, memorable comic book superheroes, supervillains and monsters. With step-by-step instructions and skill-building exercises integrated throughout, you will build your characters from the ground up:

- Start with a comprehensive introduction to the human form, looking at muscles, movement and amplifying characteristics for a superhuman finish
- Give your characters charisma and personality through their facial expressions, head movements and masks
- Clothe your characters: from spandex to fabric, this section contains everything you need to know to give your superhero their vital, identifying costume
- Translate power onto paper (from flight, strength and speed, to x-ray vision, magic and even weaponry)
- Create believable, dynamic action poses.

Professional comic book and storyboard artist Sam Hart has more than 30 years of experience drawing superheroes and action stars with characters and properties including Judge Dredd, Power Rangers, VR Troopers and Starship Troopers. He has a number of successful graphic novels, and collaborated with Antony Johnston to illustrate The Coldest City, adapted to film in 2017 as Atomic Blonde, starring Oscar winner Charlize Theron. With illustration and artwork experience both freelance and in-house, since 2004 Sam has regularly taught drawing and comic book art. He has taught at Quanta Academia de Artes and, since 2012, at Axis School of Visual Effects. He also features on Domestika, teaching inking for comic books and visual narrative for comic books. He also works with book illustration and freelance storyboards for TV and music videos. Born in England, he now lives in sunny São Paulo, with his wife and daughters.

Author Residence: San Paolo Brazil

Author Hometown: UK

Once you master the basics, you'll move on to advanced skills like creating dramatic perspective, adding narrative and inking to create comic-style tone and shading. Sam also shares special secrets on creating drama and dynamics through layout – a key element of comic book art!

Finally you'll find advice on ensuring artwork is print-ready with resources including blue-line pages for showing your professional-quality work.

Amigurumi cuteness is written in the stars!

Crochet 28 mini amigurumi figures inspired by classic and Chinese zodiac signs, as well as a selection of lucky charms.

Whether you're making these super-sweet characters as seasonal gifts or birthday presents, or you want to collect the whole set for yourself, these adorable beginner-friendly crochet projects will bust your yarn stash and bring some celestial joy to your world.

Linda Urbanneck was born into an extremely creative family, but she didn't develop her passion for crochet until 2019 when she saw a video on amigurumi. Little by little she taught herself to crochet, initially as a hobby, but over time this passion moved increasingly in a profession. Linda created her first own pattern in 2020, and subsequently established her own label under the name 'Haekelobby'.

When she's not busy with her wool stash and crochet hooks, Linda enjoys family life with her husband and three sons in south Germany. Linda provides hints and tips every day on her Instagram profile @haekel_lobby, where she also gives insights into her life as a designer and author.
